

LANGE GMBH: ACT GLOBAL – TALK LOCAL.

Machines for producing boxes in 53 languages

Someone who deals in products around the world should also be understood worldwide. The website of Lange GmbH, leading specialist for used machines for producing boxes, is now available in more than 50 languages!

As one of the first – if not the first! – dealer in machines for producing boxes, Lange GmbH consistently focuses on global comprehensibility by its Internet presence. It is not a matter of course, after all, that German or English is understood everywhere. An interested party wishing to buy or sell an automatic die cutter, a glueing machine, autoplaten, platen, stamping machine, laminating equipment or a wrapping machine, for example – but only able to speak its mother tongue, has easily been put at a disadvantage previously. Now, it may get information on www.lange.de round the clock about the services of the enterprise and the offer of always more than 350 available machines – and this very conveniently in the own mother tongue! From Afrikaans to Tagalog (!) up to Welsh – with the website of www.lange.de in – believe it or not – 53 languages, the enterprise from South Germany is setting new standards in matters of globalization.
